PUBLICATIONS: BOOKS

Charlotte Walker-Said, Faith, Power and Family: Christianity and Social Change in French Cameroon (Oxford: James Currey, 2018).

This book explores African Catholic and Protestant evangelists who received, innovated, and repurposed Christianity to challenge local and foreign governments operating in the French-administered League of Nations Mandate of Cameroon. This new history of Christianity in Africa brings to light the work of Africans in building thoroughly autonomous national churches long before the end of colonial rule.

Charlotte Walker-Said and John D. Kelly, Corporate Social Responsibility? Human Rights in the New Global Economy (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2015).

This volume brings together cutting-edge scholarship from leading figures in human rights programs around the United States to engage some of the major political questions of our age: what is CSR, and how might it render positive political change in the real world?
